

We've Made Some Moves of Our Own

Posted on Thursday, Dec. 15

By Paul Ladewski

Welcome to the new home of the Chicago Baseball Museum.

Our web site has undergone some changes of its own this off-season, and we believe the result is bolder, more informative and easier to navigate. (Special thanks to Webmaster Carol Kneedler for her assistance.)

We're not done yet. Expect a few more tweaks in the months ahead, as we attempt to tell the story of Chicago baseball history like it has never been told before.

In the meantime, let us know what you think at info@chicagobaseballmuseum.org.